The Mission of the Foundation

MISSION STATEMENT

Oracle Capital Group believes that only through active involvement in the lives of others can a person enrich their own life. As part of this commitment, we have established the Oracle Capital Charitable Foundation to provide active support to a number of organizations and charities, whose missions lie close to our hearts.

It is crucial that we promote and support strong leadership, innovation, personal development and sound governance in all our projects, as we believe these are important factors in powering social change.

We are committed in providing an extensive network of grants to support education, health services and social development projects, intelligently channeling the funds where they are most needed. Our company is a known supporter of the arts and we are very keen to continue that tradition, especially in relation to the talent emerging from the CIS countries.

Close relationships with our Foundation partners ensures the funds are distributed over a wider net of interests and we are all able to share experiences, expertise and common ambitions in achieving the best results. Our donors share our values and passions in promoting positive social development and in giving a helping hand to true talent.

Chairman

LORD CLANWILLIAM

Born Patrick Meade, Paddy became the 8th Earl of Clanwilliam in 2010. He started his career in the late 80's at Hanson PLC, the US/UK conglomerate, and at the same time was elected for two consecutive terms as a Councillor in the Royal Borough of Kensington & Chelsea.

Lord Clanwilliam is a director of a number of FTSE companies while also advising a range of international companies and foreign governments.

He was Chairman of steel fabricators Cleveland Bridge in 2002 during the period when the company created and erected the iconic arch at Wembley Stadium.

Through his travels and extensive business career, Paddy has developed a great affinity for Russia, a number of Central Asian countries and the Middle East.

He is Chairman of Meade Hall & Associates, the communications business he founded in 1993. He chairs London-listed Eurasia Drilling Company, Russia's largest oilfield services company, a non-executive director of FTSE premium listed Polyus Gold, Russia's largest gold company, and of Abu Dhabi based NMC Healthcare. The combined capitalisation of these companies exceeds £15bn.

Testimonials

TESTIMONIALS

«We were delighted to work with Oracle Capital Group, whose first sponsorship at Wigmore Hall was violinist Maxim Vengerov's return to the London stage in 2012. It was a landmark event in our calendar and Oracle's sponsorship was hugely valued».

John Gilhooly,

Director, Wigmore Hall

«The Houghton Revisited exhibition is an important example of successful cultural collaboration between Russia and Britain and is a unique and once-in-a-lifetime project. We are delighted to be supported by Oracle Capital Group whose sponsorship helped make the aspiration of returning the Walpole Collection to Houghton Hall in 2013 a reality. The sheer quality of the masterpieces on display at Houghton Revisited is matched by the professionalism and commitment of Oracle Capital Group to this wonderful and historic project.»

Lord Cholmondeley, Houghton Hall

«Oracle Capital Group has been a fantastic supporter of our Jubilee Woods project which planted six million trees across the United Kingdom in recognition of Her Majesty The Queen's Diamond Jubilee. Oracle donated £10,000 to the project and planted 500 trees which are recorded as a lasting legacy in our 2012 Royal Record of tree planting.»

Gorbachev's Award

GORBY-80

Oracle Capital Group was proud to support Gorby-80, a unique charity event celebrating the 80th birthday of Mikhail Gorbachev, the former Soviet leader who ended the Cold War and, defined an era. On March 30th 2011, stars of music, politics and the arts joined Gorbachev and his family for a gala concert at the Royal Albert Hall. All proceeds went to the Mikhail Gorbachev Foundation and Macmillan Cancer Care, providing support for cancer patients in both Russia and the UK.

In addition to the lineup of international musicians from East and West, there were also political and show-business figures from across the world attending as guests.

The political figures attending included the former British Prime Minister John Major, former governor of California Arnold Schwarzenegger, President of Israel and a Nobel Peace Prize winner, Shimon Peres and others.

Wigmore Hall

WIGMORE HALL

Oracle Capital Group was happy to become a corporate sponsor of Wigmore Hall, one of the best known musical venues in London, and to sponsor a unique performance by Maxim Vengerov.

Revered as one of the world's greatest violinists, Russian-born Vengerov, has performed with world-renowned orchestras and captivated the hearts of audiences worldwide. Beginning his musical career at the age of five, Vengerov has won prestigious international competitions, collaborated with the world's finest conductors and recorded for a number of high-profile labels, including Teldec Classics and EMI, receiving many prestigious awards, including the Grammy Award and Gramophone Artist of the Year. In 1997, Vengerov became the first classical musician to be appointed Envoy for Music by UNICEF, which provided him with the unique opportunity to inspire children worldwide through music. In this concert in Wigmore Hall, April 5th 2012, Vengerov brought together the greatest cornerstones of his repertoire in what was considered by many to be a landmark in the London concert season.

Dashi Namdakov

DASHI NAMDAKOV

Oracle Capital Charitable Foundation was delighted to support the unveiling of «Genghis Khan» a monumental sculpture by internationally acclaimed artist, Dashi Namdakov. The Genghis Khan has been placed next to Cumberland Gate, by London's Marble Arch, and set against a beautiful backdrop of green parkland and open skies. The spectacular bronze statue rises to almost five metres from hoof to helmet and features the great Mongolian leader descending from heaven on horseback.

Namdakov's triumphant bronze sculpture was specially commissioned for installation in Marble Arch. It depicts Genghis Khan wearing medieval Mongolian armour, with arms outstretched, lost in deep contemplation. The work showcases the artist's incredible precision and attention to detail through the golden plaques on the livery, scenes of hunting beasts depicted on the armour and the special 'antique' patina of the plaited hair. The overall result is a powerful image of the ancient hero of the Mongols who has become part of global civilization.

Jubilee Woods Project

JUBILEE WOODS PROJECT

Oracle Capital Group was honoured to become one of the corporate sponsors of the Jubilee Woods Project, a unique initiative celebrating Queen Elizabeth II's historic 2012 Diamond Jubilee. The Project was launched to encourage people and communities to plant 6 million trees and was delighted to have HRH The Princess Royal as its Patron. It will provide a lasting tribute to Queen Elizabeth II by shaping the landscape of the United Kingdom for generations to come, just as the Queen Elizabeth II's reign helped shape the political and cultural landscape of the country in the past 60 years.

On February 15th 2012, employees of Oracle Capital Group volunteered their time to plant 1375 trees at Heartwood Forest in Hertfordshire. Within our sponsorship package, part of our donation will be used to have a further 500 trees planted near London and named after Oracle Capital Group.

Scholarship Programme

LONDON SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND FINANCE

«The London School of Business and Finance is proud to partner with Oracle Capital Group in its efforts to support talented students. The joint scholarship program was established three years ago and has been a resounding success. It is with great pride that we open our doors to the scholarship awardees as we share our institution's facilities and our faculty's knowledge and experience in order to provide scholars with the best possible education. We at the London School of Business and Finance and our partners at Oracle Capital Group are both committed to the ideals of education, charity and social responsibility. Together we will continue to work and support programs that foster those ideals.»

Aaron Etingen
Executive Chairman at London
School of Business & Finance (LSBF)

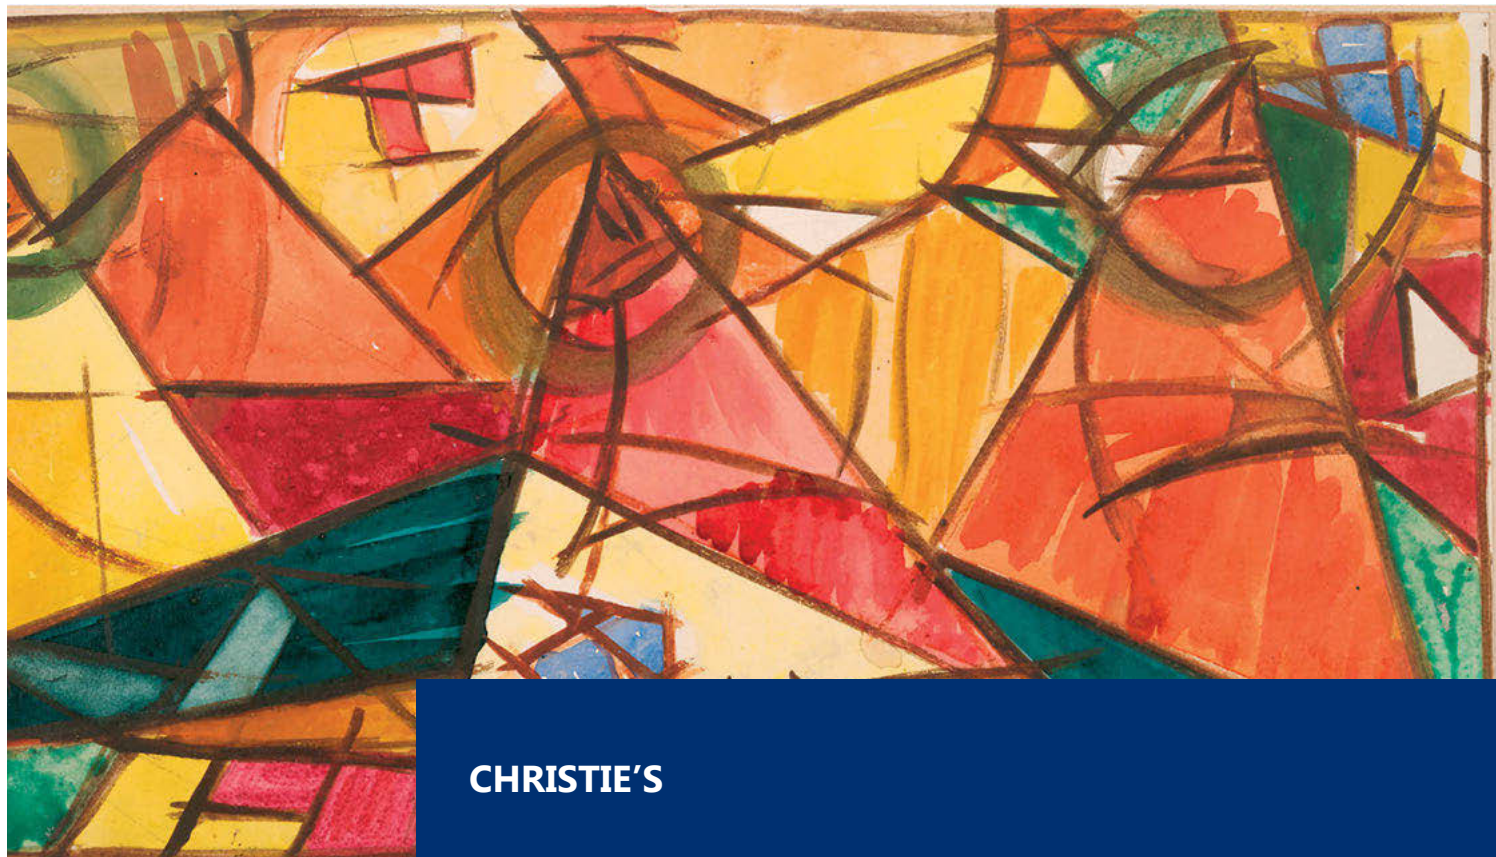

Oracle Capital Charitable Foundation and London School of Business & Finance are proud to announce a new joint scholarship programme, available to the nationals of former USSR countries studying or planning to study for the Masters in Finance and MBA degrees at the LSBF Business School.

Oracle Capital Charitable Foundation believes that only through active involvement in the lives of others can a person enrich their own life. And there is no better way to enrich the lives of generations to come than to enable the attainment of quality education and the development of skills.

Alexander Volkov's Exhibition

CHRISTIE'S

In recognition of our passionate and continued support for the arts and culture, Oracle Capital Charitable Foundation was delighted to sponsor the first solo exhibition of Alexander Volkov's work entitled: Alexander Volkov: Of Sand and Silk, which was shown at Christie's, King Street, London in September 2012.

Alexander Volkov: Of Sand and Silk was a non-selling exhibition showing more than 50 of Volkov's early works. His art portrays the changes in Central Asia during the first half of the twentieth century as it came under the control of the Russian Empire and, subsequently, the Soviet authorities.

Volkov (1886 – 1957), born in Fergana Valley (now Uzbekistan), is now regarded as one of the most prominent and acclaimed Russian artists of the period. During his lifetime, however, his work was considered 'ideologically dangerous' and for the last decade of his life he experienced great hardship, struggling to make a living. Volkov has been reinstated as a leading Russian artist and today his works form part of permanent displays at such prestigious museums as the State Tretyakov Gallery in Moscow, the State Russian Museum in St Petersburg and the Karakalpak Museum of Arts in Nukus.

ROYAL ACADEMY OF ARTS

The Royal Academy of Arts was founded by George III in 1768. The 34 founding Members were a group of prominent artists and architects, including Sir Joshua Reynolds and Sir William Chambers, who were determined to achieve professional standing for British art and architecture. They also wanted to provide a venue for exhibitions that would be open to the public and to establish a school of art through which their skills and knowledge could be passed to future generations of practitioners.

Oracle Capital Group is a Corporate Member of the Royal Academy of Arts. Without revenue funding from government, the RA relies on corporate support to sustain not only its exhibitions, learning and architecture programmes, but also the RA Schools. Recent exhibitions have included Byzantium 330–1453; Anish Kapoor RA; The Real Van Gogh: The Artist and His Letters; Degas and the Ballet: Picturing Movement; David Hockney RA: A Bigger Picture; Bronze; and Manet: Portraying Life. As part of our employee engagement programme, all Oracle Capital staff have complimentary access to RA exhibitions.

Gift of Life

GIFT OF LIFE

The Gift of Life foundation is the London-based sister organisation of the Podari Zhizn - one of Russia's largest charity, dedicated to helping as many as 2,000 children suffering from cancer each year. Podari Zhizn offers hope and practical care to children and young adults whose families cannot afford treatment for cancer. Thanks to the generous donations of its supporters, Podari Zhizn saves the lives of dozens of children through the provision of vital medicine and treatment, while providing support for children and young adults from Russia and the CIS countries - up to the age of 25.

The Gift of Life foundation commenced its operations in the UK in 2011. It conducts fundraising activities in the UK and other European countries. One of the foundation's main objectives is to raise funds for Erwinase, a drug manufactured and sold in the UK, and to make it available to Russian patients. Each year Erwinase is needed by nearly 60 Russian children suffering from leukaemia.

Houghton Hall

HOUGHTON HALL

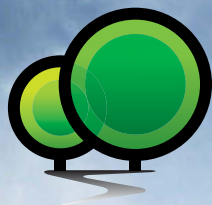

Oracle Capital Charitable was very proud to announce the launch of "Houghton Revisited – Masterpieces of the Walpole Collection".

The magnificent art collection created by Britain's first Prime Minister, Sir Robert Walpole which was later sold to Catherine the Great of Russia to adorn the Hermitage in St Petersburg was reassembled in its spectacular original setting at Houghton Hall in Norfolk for the first time in over 200 years this summer. Houghton Revisited runs from 17 May – 29 September 2013, and is a unique opportunity to see one of the most famous art collections of 18th century Europe including masterpieces by Rembrandt, Velazquez, Poussin and Rubens. The show includes 70 paintings from the collection of the State Hermitage Museum as well as other Russian museums, the V&A, London, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York and The National Gallery, Washington, D.C. The exhibition offers the public a splendid opportunity to see this legendary British collection temporarily returned to the original owner's home.
